

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Tuesday 24th October 2023

By young William and his mum Ria

Wonderful

I took William to the park on Sunday and he saw a very big tree - he pointed at it and said "look Mummy, how wonderful!" It really made me think of what the word "wonderful" means - he was literally full of wonder to see something so majestic (and he hadn't responded like that to the bus, or the funfair, or the shops...only the tree). It was very moving to see his response and made me feel very close to God through the world he has created.
