

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Tuesday 29th November 2022

By Revd John Marshall

Parable and Paradox    So loved the world    Malcolm Guite

John 3 16-17    For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

The whole round world in Greek the total cosmos
Is all encompassed in this loving word,
Not just the righteous, right on and religious
But every one of whom you've ever heard.
And all the throng you don't know or ignore
For everyone is precious in his sight;
Chosen and cherished, loved redeemed before
The circling cosmos ever saw the light.
He set us in the world that we might flourish,
That his beloved world might live through us.
We chose instead of this should perish
And turned his every blessing to a curse
And now he gives himself as life and light,
That we might choose in him to set things right.
Malcolm Guite    Parable and Paradox    Canterbury Press

I love these verses from John; and Malcolm Guite's poem helps me to think in a different way about God's loving kindness.
PS has anybody else enjoyed Cosmos holidays?