

Thought for the day – Thursday 14th July 2022

By Revd John Marshall

Living by Grace Joan Robertson

I have seen Christ
In the neglected face of an unloved boy

I have seen Christ
In the gentleness and faith of an old man

I have seen Christ
In the quick hands of a nurse
Who knew I needed her before I asked.

I have seen Christ
When my heart was breaking
In the compassionate eyes of a friend

I have seen Christ
In the anguish of a mother
For her dying son

I have seen Christ
In a dustman and a doctor

God grant
That they may see Christ in me.

Where have you seen Christ?
