

Thought for the day – Tuesday 21st March 2023

By Revd John Marshall

Verbal Psalms for the city John-Paul Flintoff

In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God.

And they walked together in Kensington Gardens,
in the pleasant evening, smelling jasmine.

But the Word was lonely,
so God took some letters from the Word
and created the Sentence,
And the Word was delighted, rejoicing

‘You are of one flesh’, said the Lord
And their sons and daughters were the Noun,
and the Adjective, and the Verb.

And the generations of the Verb were this:

The Verb begat the Action.

The Action begat the Consequence:

The Consequence begat the Narrative.

The Narrative begat the Question.

The Question begat the Answer.

The Answer begat the Dispute.

The Dispute begat the Falsehood.

The Falsehood begat irony

And God walked with Irony, and used Irony for his mysterious way

But Irony could not speak to God because the Lord God knows everything.

SPCK

But we can speak with God our Father.
