

Thought for the day – Maundy Thursday 6th April 2023

By Revd John Marshall

Supper being ended    Joan A Bidock

In the quiet place

at close of day

he washes the feet of my mind from the dust of the fret.

His infinite eyes

see the staining and wounds of the road, his hands

bring smarting

and cleansing

and balm.

The grace of his health

restores my soul

her place in the circling stars of perpetual praise.

Then, taking again the seamless robe, the Alpha-Omega

Master and Lord

we talk together

friend with friend.
