

Thought for the day – Monday 28th November 2022

By Revd John Marshall

Steven Shakespeare Easter Sunday: John 20 1-18

Christ our Morning Star:
as Mary your Mother
bears the Word of incarnate love
as Mary your Apostle
bears the Word of risen hope.

May she teach us to trust ...
... trust in the not knowing
When feet drag towards the tomb
And it is still dark.

... trust in the undoing
When we find ourselves unravelled
and we do not understand,

... trust in the weeping
when it is all too much and tears cannot be contained.

... trust in the meeting
when we struggle to find words
and love speaks our name.

... trust in the telling

when we are called to witness and hope lives on through us.

... trust in the dying
when through the darkest hour
we step into the dawn.

We are thinking about Marys in our Bible studies and are learning from them.
